To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to tell you about a wonderful young woman I had the pleasure to have in my class Exploring Art. Her name is Anastasia Ignashkina, and I believe she would make an outstanding candidate for your position.

Anastasia is a creative, enthusiastic, intelligent, happy, well-adjusted, and witty young woman. She is very organized, hard-working, and well-liked by her peers. She demonstrated all these qualities during our humanities undergraduate group research project, interviewing local artists during the COVID 19 pandemic. In this project, she was able to tie in her passion for science and love for art in a creative and novel way by producing an episode for our course podcast.

Miss. Ignashkina has always been an outstanding student, raising high among her peers. In high school, she was a member of the National Honor Society. And today she is on the dean's list at FIU.

I have no hesitation in recommending Anastasia for any academic or professional opportunity in the field of science. Her exceptional academic record, passion for learning, analytical skills, and excellent communication abilities make Anastasia an ideal candidate for any endeavor she chooses to pursue. I am confident that Miss. Ignashkina will contribute significantly to your organization and will be an asset to any scientific community she becomes a part of.
